

MARION COUNTY

Ideally located in the center of the United States on the edge of the picturesque Flint Hills, Marion County is in close proximity to major trucking highways and railways. With a population of nearly 12,000, the county is home to a highly skilled workforce that fuels world-class manufacturers that produce goods ranging from trailers all the way to honey. Three business parks throughout the county offer an abundance of real estate opportunities. Just a short drive from major markets such as Wichita, Topeka, and Kansas City, Marion County perfectly positions businesses to grow.

Marion County is known for its active, outdoor lifestyle, four lovely seasons, and a relaxed pace embracing family and community.

It's a county poised for growth, with a workforce ready to perform, modern infrastructure, and plans focused on technology, recreation, natural resources, and community development.
